

The right individuals with the right skills:
reach thousands of job seekers and make your next brilliant hire at Jinfo

Looking for the right person for an information-related job? Or do you have information job openings to fill each month? Jinfo can help you tap the talent pool for professionals with information skills.

Who are Jinfo subscribers and users?

Jinfo subscribers have experience, training and interest in information related jobs. They can be grouped into four key practice areas:

Why list job openings in Jinfo?

- Targeted subscriber base:
Our subscriber base comprises professionals with a variety of information skills.
Information-related job openings go directly to the people who are most likely to have the right skills and interest.
- Cost-effective recruiting:
A single posting can remain in the database as long as you need it to, for one price.
Monthly account holders get the most cost-effective coverage for a handful of jobs or dozens.
Registered charities receive a 50% discount on listing fees.
- Multiple exposure opportunities:
Posted jobs are circulated to opt-in email addresses in several ways, including the Jinfo newsletter and the FreePint Newsletter.

"Jinfo is a good place for keen, able and flexible jobseekers. I appreciated your pleasant, helpful and swiftly-responsive service."

"Jinfo does it again! It is not often we can chart advertising directly to placement, but a recent role we posted on Jinfo attracted a new candidate, who was eagerly interviewed and snapped up by a client who had been trying for some time to fill a difficult role. Great news for us and also for our candidate and client. Thanks for being the conduit!"
